ABOUT KERNO

The hookah has always been a symbol of warmth and hospitality, bringing people together for cozy and friendly occasions. It was a key element of the social and family lives of past generations. But in 2016, we noticed that the world was changing and advancing in every aspect, except for the hookah. While other household items and appliances had been upgraded and enhanced to suit their functions and purposes better, the hookah remained stagnant and outdated. It lacked the attention and innovation that it deserved, especially for the new generation of users who had different preferences and expectations. It needed a redesign that would reflect modern times. That's why we decided to enter this industry and create something new—something that would cater to the tastes and needs of the young generation, something that would keep up with the modern world.

We assembled a team of specialists in this domain and began to produce hookahs that met global standards. Kernó, a favorite companion for social events, keeps advancing in the modern hookah industry. It employs the most recent production technologies to suit current global preferences. We use premium-quality materials to make our hookahs more wholesome and enjoyable for you and your friends. We are glad we can share your happy moments.

OUR TECHNOLOGY

We are proud to inform you that we use a bronze alloy to make Kerno hookahs, which greatly lowers the risks of hookah smoke. The bronze alloy also boosts the smoke output of your hookah. Kerno hookahs are easy to clean, and the tobacco flavor and aroma disappear quickly, so you can try different tobaccos one after another. We also intend to use steel and aluminum alloys to make Kerno hookahs in the near future. Kerno hookahs do not use waterproof yarn like the old ones, but silicone gaskets that are very sanitary and stop the growth of germs. We handle the whole production process from start to finish within Kerno without relying on any external parties.

The first step is to melt the raw materials in casting furnaces at our own factory and form them into ingots. Then, we use CNC machines to shape them and give them a polish and an electroplated coating. The products are then vacuum-treated, colored, and recoated. The last step is to assemble and package them for delivery and sale. Our team works hard to make sure every step is done with great attention so that customers get the best quality product, making every purchase a wonderful new experience. We are happy when you enjoy your hookah every time and are pleased with your purchase. That's why all Kerno products have a 3-year warranty and 15 years of after-sales service.

THE HISTORY OF HOOKAH

Once upon a time, during the Safavid dynasty, a new story emerged that spanned many years and reached our modern times. The story passed from the people of the old times, made memories, and was introduced to the world. This story traces back to the times when smoking flavored tobacco through water pipes had become a hobby for people. It was Abul-Fath Gilani, a Persian physician for the court of the third Mughal emperor Akbar the Great, who, for the first time, passed the smoke of tobacco through a vessel with water to make it colder and purer. Thereafter, the instrument, known as huqqa in India, was introduced to Iran as .qalyan and found its way to grandiose occasions. Hookah found its place in the Iranian culture so quickly immediately after its arrival, Iranian artists started to engrave beautiful Iranian patterns on hookahs. The result was magnificent. Hookah became one of the royal families' appliances, and the city allies were filled with the aroma of tobacco. Every tourist entering Iran and wondering the city would obsessively observe the hookahs and mention them as a significant and practical instrument for the Iranians. This cultural phenomenon reached the Ottoman Empire from the Iranian royal court and eventually made its mark in various cultures in other parts of the world. Now, hookah has fans in every part of the world and has maintained its originality and identity of keeping gatherings warm and cozy since its emergence to this time.
